What is L.I.T./W.I.T.?

Leaders In Training/Wranglers In Training is an intensive 5 day residential Christian Leadership camp that is housed at Wildwood Ranch. This camp is designed for spiritually mature Christian young people to develop as leaders who can serve at the camp as Junior Staff until they complete the program and/or serve in their local communities as they grow to be Christian adults. Campers are accepted through an application process.

Is L.I.T./W.I.T. a regular week of camp?

No. L.I.T./W.I.T. is not a regular week of camp. Please read this whole information sheet and pray about whether or not you should apply. There are other weeks of the summer to choose from for regular camp. Space at L.I.T./W.I.T. is extremely limited, with a highly selective acceptance process.

Who should apply?

Only young adults who have already made a commitment to following Jesus and are serious about developing their leadership skills, opening themselves to accountability, and have a desire to gain more knowledge about God and the Bible.

What is included in the schedule?

The L.I.T./W.I.T. schedule is very packed. Each participant has 3 Bible Classes with homework as well as training in an activity class of their choice. Campers also have a cabin group with which they learn the day to day cleaning duties of the camp, to keep it running smoothly. Each camper is also in a “bond building” group which is focused on building trust and community within the group through low ropes and other initiatives. There are work projects, homework study hall, devotions, and of course, meal times. The week is usually highlighted with a staff vs. camper sports game.

What is the difference between L.I.T. and W.I.T.?

The only difference between L.I.T. and W.I.T. is that the W.I.T. activity time during the day is with horse training, riding, and care. W.I.T. participants are also required to take part in the feeding and care of the horses early in the morning and go on a trail ride at some point during the week.
