Evangelical Feminism and Biblical Truth

An Analysis of More Than 100 Questions

By Wayne Grudem

God created us, male and female, in His image.

So what does that mean?

Has the modern church suffered a tragic loss of the beauty of manhood and womanhood as created by God? Has the feminist influence within today's evangelical church led to a rejection of the effective authority of the Bible? In this reasoned, comprehensive response to more than one hundred controversial claims from evangelical feminists, biblical scholar Wayne Grudem answers these questions and examines the egalitarian perspective on every major doctrinal issue, including:

- What the Bible says about the roles of men and women in marriage
- Women in the church and in church leadership
- Theology and the concepts of equality, fairness, and justice
- Claims that a complementarian view as harmful

"This is the fullest and most informative analysis available, and no one will be able to deny the cumulative strength of the case this author makes." - J.I. Packer

"This is the most thorough, balanced, and biblically accurate treatment of feminism and the Bible I have seen." - Stu Weber

"After the Bible, I cannot imagine a more useful book for finding reliable help in understanding God's will for manhood and womanhood in the church and the home."

- John Piper
